ITALY WOULD AID ARGENTINA. Satisfaction in Rome Over Settlement With

Chile-Delay in Signing Protocol. Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN.

ROME, Dec. 28.—The reported settlement of the dispute between Chile and Argentina has been received with sincere satisfaction here. After much debate and many inquiries in the foreign offices of Europe, the Italian Government had to recognize that if war should break out Italy would be bound to assume a leading part as an interested outsider, with all the risks which such a rôle involves. Orders were issued consequently to prepare a strong squadron for service in Argentine waters, and preparations were actually begun to that end.

While keeping short of openly waging war on Chile, Italian policy would have been to help Argentina in every possible way. This was Signor Crispi's policy and was proved by the late King Humbert and | to try to use any his Cabinet when the Chilean-Argentine self-governing federation. situation last seemed threatening.

spatch from Buenos Ayres, dated yesterday, says that Dr. Alcorta, the Argentine Republic's Minister of Foreign Affairs, stated in an interview that he did not attach any importance to the incident arising out of the wording of the protocol between Argentina and Chile. He believed the matter would be definitely settled to-day.

A news agency despatch from Valparaiso yesterday's date says there was grea excitement there over a report that Secon Portela, the Argentine Republic's Minister to Chile, had repudiated the protocol owing to the way it was worded. The explanations offered by President Rie however, quickly removed all Senor Portela's doubts. Paris, Dec. 28 .- A Valparaiso despatch dated yesterday says Senor Portels withheld his signature from the protocol because his Government refused to submit the question of the regulation of police service in the disputed territory to the ar-Utration of Great Britain

ROBERTS DROPS VOLUNTEERS. Men Who Connet Sive Honosary Time

Drilla-Order Arasses Debete. Special Cable Despatch to TEE SUN.
LONDON, Dec. 28.—An army order ing with the Volunteer service in Great Britain was published on Christmas Day and signed by Lord Roberts, Commander-in-Chief of the Army. It has aroused much ebate throughout the country. In the first place the Volunteers who have itherto been in the service are considered to have been slighted by what is practically a statement in the order that they have been useless in the past. This is considered to be conveyed in passages such as one which says:

*For some years past the Volunteer force has constantly claimed to be seriously accepted as a reliable and organized section of the army for home defence. It is now determined that the responsibility claimed shall be realised. Under the old regulations it was impossible for an officer or Volunteer to attain the high standard requisite to enable him to take his appointed place in military organization and defence of the kingdom.

The order declares that the annual camp with which the year's training should culminate is indispensible. It recognizes that the civil employment of many Volunteers does not admit of their complying with the minimum of conditions necessary for an effective course of training and that therefore the service of such Volunteers must be lost in the future. It holds as against this that a smaller number of more highly trained men is preferable. For that reason the enrollment of Volunteers who are unable to give an adequate time to service in military camps will henceforward not be permitted.

The Spectator considers that the War Office contemplates too calmly the loss of men which will thus be entailed; and in other quarters the opinion is generally expressed that the encouragement of good ife shooting would be more useful for the defence of England than camp drilling. It is beyond question that the new regulation will cause a considerable diminution in the Volunteer forces, especially of officers.

ITO'S MISSION TO LONDON. Wants Imperial Aid in Preventing Exclusion of Japanese From Australia.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Dec. 28 .- The Marquis Ito, who is now in London, loses no opportunity of making it known that his visit is entirely one of pleasure and that when he left Japan he had no intention of coming to England. The latter statement is undoubtedly correct, for it is now learned that he altered his plans while he was in United States on receipt of a cable request from the Japanese Government to go to London and see what could be done to bring imperial influence to bear upon the Australian Commonwealth Government to agree to exclude the Japanese form the scope of the colored immigration

Marquis Ito discussed the question with Lord Lansdowne at the Foreign Office yesterday. He doubtless referred to it in the course of his long audience with the King, but the most important interview the Marquis will have in this direction will be with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, the date for which has already been fixed. The Marquis expresses great admiration He will find him sympathetic enough, no doubt, but certainly too astute to interfere directly with the Australian Commonwealth in such delicate business

Opinion here universally favors discrimination in favor of the Japanese, and it is well known that one of the chief objects of high imperial policy is to have the closest understandings with Japan. All accounts agree, however, that the feeling in Australia is very bitter on this subject, making it dangerous for the home Government

LONDON, Dec. 28.-A news agency de- PRICE PUT ON CLYDE SHIPYARDS. Story That Americans Want to Buy Them Is Confirmed.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LIVERPOOL, Dec. 28.-The Journal of Commerce, which has been investigating the story that Americans are buying up the Clyde shipyards, finds that while there is no need for apprehension, yet the matter is more serious than many in the trade supposed. An American lawyer who has been distinguished in the formation of trusts and who was the chief operator in the deals leading to the establishment of the American cotton syndicate, visited the Dennys, Russells and others to discuss the matter. It is believed that one of the builders he approached estimated the lowest figure for the purchase of the yards which would receive consideration at £30,000,000. This sum exceeded the ex pectation of the agent and he left. He stated his intention of returning later on

The ship-building statistics of Great Britain for 1901 show that 1,233 vessels were launched in the United Kingdom. representing 1,797,675 tons and 1,476,818 horse power, compared with 1,248 vessels, 1,660,700 tons, and 1,737,626 indicated horse power in the year 1900. Those iaunchings included 870 ships representing 857,690 tone for foreign and colonial owners.

The output of the Clyde shipyards for the past year was the largest on record For the first time it totalled over half a million of tonnage. The total isunchings in the Inted Kingdom for home, foreign and colonial service in 1901, show an excess of 151 veneris and 200,027 tone over the figures for the provious year

TERMS OF PEACE FOR BOERS.

KITCHENER NOW DEALING WITH THE LEADERS IN THE FIELD.

turned Homesteads to Be Rebuilt British Expense—General Amnesty Within a Year—Extent of Self-Government Still Being Discussed -Peace Talk

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Dec. 28 .- During the past weak there has been a continuance of those innite and contradictory rumors regarding steps toward the reestablishment of peace South Africa, which have been prevalen for many weeks now. There has not been even the slightest intimation from any official source on which these rumors can be based, but the belief that there is good foundation for them increases steadily

The following information comes from source which there is every reason to lieve is accurate and trustworthy. Negotiations for peace, informal but extremely promising, are actually proceeding between Lord Kitchener and the Boe leaders in the field. Lord Kitchener, thanks mainly to the influence of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, England's Chancellor of the Exchequer, has a free hand, subject only to reference on political matters to Lord

Gen. Louis Botha has already received assurances that the burned homesteads of the Boers will be rebuilt at the cost of the British imperial exchequer. He has also been informed that if peace can be arranged the banished leaders will be permitted to return to their country within twelve months of the official proclamation of a settlement and that within the same period an amnesty, which shall include the convicted Cape rebels will be declared for all bona fide acts of war.

Practically the only question of importance still at issue is the form and extent of local self-government which shall be allowed the burghers of the Transvaal and Orange River Colonies. Even that, according to present information, does not present insuperable obstacles.

If the Boers obtain the terms here indicated their heroic endurance will undoubtedly have received the reward which could have been gained by no other method. The recent successes of Christian De Wet and other Commandants may for a time make it more difficult to persuade some of the most irreconcilable of the Boer leaders to abandon the unequal contest. seems certain that whatever part the Boer representatives now in Holland may take subsequently, the first negotiations must be with the leaders in the field.

BELIEVE IN WAKEFIELD. London Agents of Ditton Park Stand by

LONDON, Dec. 28. Garvey & Gook, the ouse agents for Ditton Park, Windsor, believe that the W. Curtis Wakefield who is in jail at Cambridge, Mass., on a charge of larceny in connection with some skyrocketing schemes, is not identical withthe American lessee of Ditton Park. They say the references of the W. Curtis Wakefield with whom they dealt came from some of the highest personages in the United States, who vouched for his standing. Wakefield gave his address as 983 Fifth avenue, New York, and his age as 23. He said he had just been married and was spending his honeymoon in England. He sailed for New York on his return on Dec. 8

Further inquiries show that Wakefield's assertions were doubted in some quarters, and it is now thought that he is probably identical with the man of that name now under arrest in Massachusetts. While here he lived in great style at a fashionable hotel. The references he gave included the names of Admiral Dewey and other public men so important that at first it was thought they at have been forged. It is stated, however, that they were subsequently verified, at least to the satisfaction of most people here. Mr. Wakefield tried to rent Devizes Castle, but his bid was not sufficient.

There is a vacant lot at 983 Fifth avenue. where W. Curtis Wakefield is said to have lived. Inquiries made in the neighborhood failed to discover any family of that name.

London, Dec. 28.—In a despatch to the War Office, Lord Kitchener gives further details of the action at Twefc tein on Dec 24, when Gen. De Wet rushed the camp of Col. Firman, who commanded four companies of Imperial Yeomanry. He says:

"The column was encamped on a soli-tary kopje whose couthern side was almost precipitous. The outposts on the northern were well pushed out. The position which was naturally a strong one, had also been intrenched. The night was moonlit but cloudy. Details have not been received, but it is stated that the Boers climbed the precipitous southern side and collected "At 2 o'clock in the morning the Boere suddenly attacked the pickets on the summit in superior numbers. Before the me in the camp were able to get clear of the tents the Boers rushed through, shooting them as they were coming out. The officers were shot while trying to stem the tide. Lieut. Harwich, who worked the pompom, was shot through the heart re was no panic among our men. All did their best.

"Including the casualties, half the column is now at Elands River bridge. The remainder are prisoners. Two wagon loads of dead and wounded Boers were removed from the scene of the action. The Boers numbered 1,200 and were under command of De Wet, who behaved well, leaving men to attend to the wounded. "The Imperial Light Horse, which fourteen miles distant, arrived at 6:40 A. M. and pursued the Boers, but without effect." The War Office prints a list of casualties in the fight at Twefontein. These include: Killed 6 officers, 11 non-commissioned officers and 40 privates; severely wounded s officers, and missing, 5 officers.

HEMPSTEAD BANK ACTS ON A PROTESTED $5,000 NOTE.

Scorge Watkinson & Co. of Philade Made the Note and the Company Indorsed It Officer of the Company Says It Is Caly a Disputed Account

An attachment for $5,000 was obtained here yesterday against George Watkinson & Co., manufacturers of rubber boots and shoes at Philadelphia, and against the Crude Rubber Company, whose office are at 25 Broad street, this city, in favor of the Hempstead Bank of Long Island The attachment is on a note made by George Watkinson & Co. on Aug. 10, payable at Philadelphia on Dec. 23, which was indorsed by the Crude Rubber Company and which, it is alleged, was not paid at maturity and went to protest.

The attachment was obtained on the ground that George Watkinson & Co. are residents of Philadelphia and that the Crude Rubber Company is a Virginia cor

At the office of the Crude RubberCompan it was said yesterday that Paul De Lacy Liebermann, the treasurer, had gone for the day and that he was the only person who could sayanything about the finances of the company. Henry Earle, the Vice President and general manager said that he was about consummating a big deal but he did not go into particulars about it. A report was current in the trade that the company was about to sell $1,000,000 worth of crude rubber. Mr. Earle said he was quite too busy trying to sell rubbe to make any statement whatever concerning the attachment or to see areporter.

Mr. Liebermann said last evening that when he left his office in the afternoon there was no attachment, and that it was absurd to get out an attachment against such corporation for so small a sum. He said that he knew of the note given by the Watkinson people and that it was not paid, not because of any pecuniary in-ability, but because of a dispute over the ability, but because of a dispute over the accounts between the two concerns. The attachment he pronounced a "mistake" on somebody's part. As to the report of the million-dollar deal, or million-dollar rubber sale, or of a possible merger of the rubber company and the Philadelphia concern, Mr. Liebermann said that all such matters were purely private business and that he could say nothing about them.

'The Crude Rubber Company was organized on Feb. 26, 1897, with a capital stock of $1,000,000 of which $600,000 is preferred stock and $400,000 common stock. George S. Dearborn became President of the company.

George Watkinson & Co. of Philadelphia began business there in 1896, and had a very extensive trade. They were not in the Rubber Trust. They have done a business, it is said, of $2,000,000 a year, employing 700 hands in their large factory at Philadelphia, and making a fine class of goods. Their liabilities are reported to be about $1,000,000, with assets of of goods. Their liabilities are reported to be about $1,000,000, with assets of $1,400,000, consisting of factory, plant, &c., $350,000 free and clear; good accounts. $450,000; manufactured rubber boots and shoes, $400,000; and crude rubber, $200,000. It was reported here yesterday that the condition of the Crude Rubber Company might largely depend on how the Watkinson affairs turned out to stand in Philadelphia, as it was reported that the Crude Rubber Company and indorsed considerable Watkinson paper, some of which has gone to protest in Philadelphia. It was said that all other paper of the Crude company, except the Watkinson paper, would be taken care of.

KILLED HERSELF WITH CHLORAL Woman Saleide Had the Address of Several Men, Including a Priest.

young woman who had registered as "Maggie Owens" was found dying yesterday in her room at Reiper's Potel 1901 Park avenue. An ambulance was sum-moned from the Harlem Hospital, but the woman died while on the way to the hospital. The woman went to the hotel on Friday. Yesterday morning she rang for a bell boy and asked for a drink of whisker saving she was not feeling well. Half an hour after the drink was served to her James Doraco, an employee of the hotel, heard groans coming from her room. He broke the door open and found the woman lving across the bed unconscious. Dr Canby of the Harlem Hospital said she had taken a dose of chloral. The room was searched and among the effects foun were a number of men's cards and the addresses of hotels in Parlem and the Bronz Among the addresses were those of th Rev. Father C. Carroll, Hazelwood Farm

Jones's Burial When He Revived. EAST HAMPTON, Conn., Dec. 28. For some time Henry Jones, a veteran of the Civil War has been suffering in the village of Westchester with what seemed to be consumption. He and his family lived in what is known as the "Water Hole district. Mr. Jones seemed to fail gradually and as Christmas time drew near the family did not expect to have him with them over the usual holidays. In order to make his last days as pleasant as possible, it was proposed by his son, William H. H. Jones to take his father out for a drive. This he did one fine afternoon. When a fex miles from home his father suddenly choked up, grew black in the face, and after a few short breaths to all appearances dec in his son's arms. Driving home as hastily as possible, the form of his father was taken from the carriage and placed in the house. Prepara-tions were made to lay out the body, and a sexton was notifie the little country burying ground in the little country burying the clo Mrs. Jones was getting out the clo ready for laying out her husband she entered the room in which the body lay and with a cry gave way to her emotion.

As she gazed at the face the eyelids slowly opened and Mr. Jones looked at her and showed signs of returning life. Hastify they assisted in bringing him to and to-day they assisted in bringing him to and to-day. is up and around, although the doctor
